WELCOME TO THE

2022 Great American Outdoor Show!

For eight years, the Great American Outdoor Show has celebrated the outdoor traditions treasured by millions of Americans and their families. With 650,000 square feet of exhibit space and more than 1,000 exhibitors – ranging from firearm manufacturers, hunting and fishing outfitters and charters, archery, hunting and fishing products, boats, trucks, RVs and more - you'll find everything you need for the great outdoors.

Be sure to check out the special events happening throughout the show, including Dock Dogs – Big Air Dog Jumping Contests, the 3D Bowhunter and Spot Challenges, and more. Fishing demonstrations are held daily at the Hawg Tank and there are 200+ seminars and presentations from outdoor experts – including hunting tips & tricks, dog training, concealed carry methods, and wild game cooking. Don't forget the popular Wall of Guns, with daily chances to win firearms and other outdoor products.

Families attending the Show can stop by the Eddie Eagle Kids Zone, which keeps little ones entertained with activities that embrace the outdoor lifestyle. Kids will also enjoy the Trout Pond in the Fishing Hall and the Rock Climbing Wall in the Large Arena!

We are thrilled to have the show back after missing 2021, and we hope you enjoy this year's Great American Outdoor Show. Thank you for being a part of this timeless tradition and we look forward to sharing this experience with you, your friends, and family for years to come!

By Bryce M. Towsley, Field Editor

The Towsley side of my family is the hunting side. Yet, in the '60s they considered any kid to be a nuisance. Back then, hunting was a man's thing—no ladies and no babies.

When the men went off to deer camp and left me home, I was mad and hurt. Never one to take no for an answer, I refused to suffer in silence. Along with my one ally, my youngest uncle, Butch,

I lobbied hard for years. I was finally allowed into deer camp at 13, which was three years earlier than the "rule."

I had been shooting and knew gun safety, but was baffled about how to hunt deer. Still, I was on my own to figure it all out. Their approach was: If you are old enough to be at deer camp, you should know what to do. Nobody, except Butch, was willing to take time out of their hunt to teach me how it was done. Often I just headed out the camp door alone. I was never afraid to walk in the woods, but being young and naive can get a person into trouble. I can tell you that it's a terrifying thing to be lost

I told it to any potential boyfriends. My son, Nathan, just joked about the “ultimate cover scent.”

They carried their toy rifles when very young, and then BB guns as they got older. I let them shoot at a squirrel or rabbit if they wanted and didn't worry about messing up the deer hunting. To be honest, I don't think it ever did. Nathan spent a lot of time in treestands with me while bowhunting and became very good at sitting still and watching. He often saw the deer before I did. He had a little compound bow with which he was very good. I had a recurring dream where I was just drawing back on a huge buck when his little arrow flicked into my line of sight and bounced off the buck, spooking it into oblivion. It never happened of course, but the dream was real.

I subtly coached them about safety rather than beat them over the head with it like so many others I have been culture in other parts of the country. They hunted Alabama, Montana, Iowa, Texas and Maine. This instilled in them an understanding that while other places and other people do things differently, we are all hunters and are bonded by the hunting culture.

Beyond actually hunting, I immersed my kids into the hunting lifestyle. Some of the very first words Erin spoke were the names of the animals that were mounted on my office wall. I would point to one and she would answer with great enthusiasm: caribou, antelope, mule deer, moose, bear and whitetail deer. The pronunciation often was a bit off, but she knew them all before she could speak in sentences.

By the time they went to kindergarten they could run a turkey call, rattle antlers or do a buck grunt like a pro. By middle school they knew how to butcher a deer and skin a squirrel.

I always took them to the outdoor shows I attended, and once a promoter invited me and Nathan backstage to meet Ted Nugent.

I used to joke that in the early years I had changed the diapers on both my kids in a deer stand. That story would embarrass the hell out of Erin, my oldest, when I told it to any potential boyfriends.

deep in the big woods at that age, with dark coming on and after seeing a lot of bear tracks.

I vowed that if I became a father and if my kids were interested in hunting, I would never leave them behind. I also vowed I would teach them about hunting. My kids are both in their 30s now and they would tell you I kept those vows.

My approach was to simply involve them in my hunting life. If I was doing it, they could do it too. I took them hunting for squirrels, birds and deer.

I used to joke that in the early years I had changed the diapers on both my kids in a deer stand. That story would embarrass the hell out of Erin, my oldest, when in the field with. I believe in rewards rather than punishment to teach something. By the time they were old enough to use a real gun, safety was ingrained into them. It was just how you did things, and we didn't need to talk about it much. By then they had seen several deer shot and understood the destructive power of a firearm. They knew the rules and followed them.

They both took deer in Vermont when they were still preteens. By then we were often hunting on the Mason Farm a few miles from us, and that family was big into kids hunting. For several years we set up tents and a cook shack during the youth season. We had great success and helped a lot of kids take their first deer. Even more important, we helped provide a great experience; sleeping in tents, eating camp food and just being part of the gang.

Because of my job as a hunting writer, I had some unique opportunities to take my kids on out-of-state hunts. This helped them learn about the hunting

We played his music on the way home and it got me into a bit of trouble. Five-year-old Nathan said, “This is my new favorite song, I can't wait to tell mom when we get home.” The song? “Wang Dang Sweet Poontang.”

The thing is, I never left them home because they might be a nuisance. I took them to outdoor shows, gun shops, taxidermists or just to visit deer hunting friends.

They both spent a lot of days with me practicing shooting. We made shooting fun, and along the way they learned skills.

Hunting is my passion and they just became part of it. I made hunting a part of their lives, just like it was mine.

Due to the declining economic outlook in Vermont they both live out of state now, so we don't get to share a lot of hunting time. Erin is busy with a military career so she doesn't hunt much. But, she is a shooter and loves to shoot rifles and handguns. Nathan hunts, traps, reloads and shoots competition. When they make it home for the holidays, they always want dinner to be venison backstrap.

DOES YOUR CHILD KNOW WHAT TO DO IF HE OR SHE FINDS A GUN?

The Eddie Eagle GunSafe® Program was developed in 1988 as a firearm accident prevention program seeking to help parents, law enforcement, community groups, and educators navigate a topic paramount to our children's safety.

For over 30 years, the program has taught children what to do if they find a gun:

STOP! Don't Touch. Run Away. Tell A Grown Up.

In fact, over 31 million children have received Eddie's important message since the program began.

In 2015, the program evolved with a fresh new look and some new friends for Eddie—his Wing Team. Together they remind children of Eddie's important message. The program is designed for Pre-K through 4th graders and provides the tools to help parents and educators bring up an important safety issue with children in a fun and interactive way. Through a special kid-friendly web page, the Eddie Eagle Tree House, children are able to explore lessons, read storybooks, print coloring pages, watch Eddie's video, and more!

STOP BY THE NRA BOOTH TO LEARN MORE!

Did you know the NRA has over 170 programs?

With over 11,000 affiliated clubs and business alliance members, you can find NRA programs all over the country! Some of our program offerings include:

Youth Hunter Education Challenge

NRA's Youth Hunter Education Challenge (YHEC) provides a fun environment

for kids 18 and under to improve their hunting, marksmanship and safety skills. Through its simulated hunting situations, live fire exercises, educational and responsibility events, YHEC helps build upon skills learned in basic hunter education courses and encourages safer, lifelong hunting habits.

Help the NRA build the next generation of hunters and bring the Youth Hunter Education Challenge to your community. Many clubs, groups, organizations and individuals across the country proudly host YHEC events each year. If you'd like to host an event in your community, all it takes is an appropriate location, an organizational skill or two, and the ability to obtain a resource of volunteers to help conduct the event. Visit <https://yhec.nra.org> for more information.

Range Services

NRA Range Services offers a number of resources to public and private ranges across the country including on-site assistance, educational seminars, grants and much more. Visit <https://rangeservices.nra.org>, email range@nrahq.org or call (877) NRA RANGE for more information.

NRA Women's Wilderness Escape

The NRA Women's Wilderness Escape is an opportunity for women ages 18 and older of all different skills levels to explore and learn about shooting, hunting and the outdoors with some of our most skilled NRA Certified Instructors and best outdoor specialists. They will guide you each step of the way and teach you safe and proper usage and handling of firearms as well as help prepare you for your own adventures. No experience is necessary, and all equipment, lodging and meals are included. Visit <https://wwe.nra.org/> for more details!

NRA Day

NRA Day events provide adults, youth, families, hunters, sportsmen competitors—literally everyone — the opportunity to come together under a formal program to learn, experience, share, and grow in appreciation of the shooting sports. They provide exposure to the many different activities available in shooting sports and offer participants the opportunity to explore them in a safe, controlled environment. Visit <https://nraday.nra.org> to sign up to host an event today!

PREDATOR SERIES

FEB 5-8
ABNER DRUCKENMILLER

📍 SMALL ARENA

Abner Druckenmiller was born and raised in the mountains and forest of Central Pennsylvania. Childhood days were spent playing out great excursions to harvest trophy bucks, turkey or successful duck hunts with his brothers. As he aged his love and appreciation for the outdoors was inevitable. He would soon fall in love with the trickery and slyness of fooling his quarry by masterfully imitating their calls. His love for calling in turkeys, ducks and geese, predators and deer has given him many successful experiences while hunting. Along the way hunting would prove to be a good school master to teach ethics, character and values. Now as a young man these same character traits, values and ethics are part of the person and personality these times afield have forged. All this is enveloped in his deep understanding that what is enjoyed in the great outdoors is a privilege given to him by his God and Savior. That what is seen in the mountains and fields is the fingerprint of the Almighty God's handiwork to be enjoyed, respected and honored. Abner is the Director of Sales for FOXPRO Inc. He is currently one of the hosts for FOXPRO Hunting TV and has traveled all across North America hunting and calling predators. Growing up in the East has blessed him with the ability to tackle the elusive predators found here. Come and learn his tricks and secrets to success of calling predators in the East.

FEB 5-8
AL MORRIS

📍 SEMINAR ROOM 1

Allen Morris of Payson, Utah grew up with a love of hunting, fishing, and the outdoors. As a youngster he could be found with his dog and BB gun, chasing animals around his family's dairy farm. At the age of 15 Morris' father read an article in Outdoor Life about Wayne Carlton and his ability to call elk using a turkey diaphragm call. His father called Wayne that very day. "My life was changed forever" said Morris. "After some one-on-one instruction over the phone from Wayne, no more than three days later I was calling elk in the field myself. I realized I had a unique ability to call, mimicking the sounds elk made." Al's talent for calling and hunting elk led to a lifetime career as a professional guide. Morris had his most successful calling season in 2009. When he won the World Coyote Calling Championship for the third time, he also won in 1997 and 2007. He and his hunting partner, Garvin Young, are the only 3-time winners of this contest. He also won the World Elk Calling Championship, took first in the Northeastern Elk Calling Championship and won the Best of the West contest. Morris has also previously won the Utah State Bugling Championship and the Northeast Elk Calling Championship. Al is extremely excited to be associated as part of the FOXPRO family. He is looking forward to sharing his knowledge and experience with outdoor enthusiasts.

FEB 10-13

Alan produces the educational North American Trapper television show that airs weekly on Sportsman Channel and he has produced outdoor programming for two decades where it has been aired in over 130 million total households.

FEB 5-11
JOE ZAFFUTO

📍 SEMINAR ROOM 1

If you hunt at night, light can be essential to your success. In 2012, Night Eyes was founded by Joe Zaffuto, an avid night hunter who was frustrated with other predator lights on the market. He also wanted a scan light that was hands-free and allowed him to focus on the hunt. They currently offer industry leading, lightweight, and durable headlamps and gun lights with high quality green or red LED lights. Red lights are best for scanning approaching predators eyes while green lights are great to highlight the dark fur of wild hogs. Night Eyes quality predator scan lights are made with the night hunter in mind!

LEARN CRIME PREVENTION
TECHNIQUES BY ATTENDING A SEMINAR TODAY!

Refuse
To Be A Victim.

NRA's award-winning crime prevention program, Refuse To Be A Victim®, has spent more than 25 years improving personal safety strategies and increasing crime prevention awareness in communities across the country. Throughout the duration of the program, RTBAV has gained over 8,000 instructors, many law enforcement partnerships, and the praise of thousands who have attended seminars over the years.

RTBAV teaches the personal safety tips and techniques that are needed to be alerted to dangerous situations and to avoid becoming a victim. When attending a seminar, you will learn:

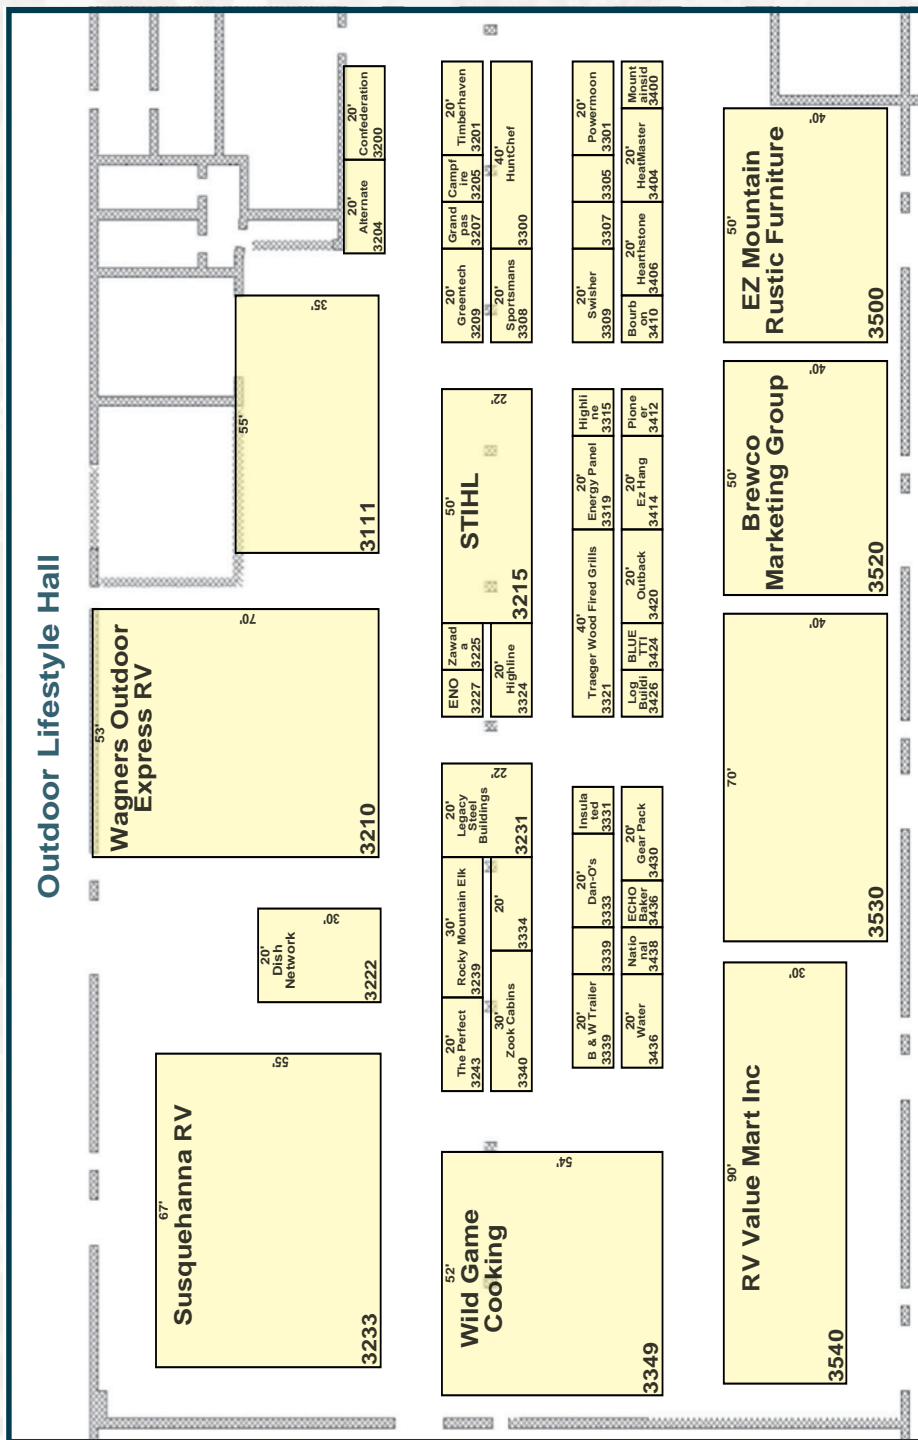

- Basic principles of crime prevention
- Psychology of criminal predators
- Mental preparedness and awareness
- And a variety of topics including home, physical, travel, and cyber security

Visit rtbav.nra.org to find a seminar near you or email refuse@nrahq.org for more information.
